TOPIC: The Coalinga Earthquake and a Landslide Induced Dam Failure Near Reno, Nevada

Immediately after the recent earthquake near Coalinga, California, state and local officials sealed off the heavily damaged downtown portion of Coalinga. Our speaker was one of the very few people who were able to obtain high quality imagery of the area before it was razed by heavy equipment.

Woody has put together a very interesting slide show of the earthquake related damage at Coalinga. As an additional treat, Woody will present a short presentation on a landslide-induced dam failure which took place over the Memorial Day holiday near Reno, Nevada.

SPEAKER: Mr. Woodrow Higdon, President-GEO-TECH IMAGERY, INC.

Mr. Higdon is a police officer turned geologist turned geotechnical photographer. GEO-TECH IMAGERY provides many types of photography for geotechnical types as well as shooting commercial products which seem to pay Woody's way to all the places most people have to pay to see.
